

➤ How to apply

Applications for September 2024 entry open in October 2023

For 2024-25 we are offering training places in:

- Art & Design (tuition)
- Biology, tuition
- Business, tuition
- Chemistry, tuition
- Computing, tuition
- Drama, tuition
- Design & Technology, tuition
- English, tuition
- Maths, tuition
- Music, tuition
- Religious Studies, tuition
- Physics, tuition

Bursaries from the DfE are available for some subjects. Please check the Get into Teaching website for up to date information: <https://getintoteaching.education.gov.uk/how-to-apply>

To apply for a training place at JCoSS through any of our providers, you need to use Apply to Teaching function on the DfE website (also accessible via the Get into Teaching website). Applications are not made directly to individual schools.

<https://getintoteaching.education.gov.uk/tips-on-applying-for-teacher-training>

<https://www.gov.uk/apply-for-teacher-training>

The application window for School Direct opens in October; please make sure you keep checking for course availability as there are some subject areas that are very popular. Once you have completed the application process, your application will be forwarded to the individual school to begin the recruitment process with a shortlisting exercise which looks at applicants' strengths and weaknesses. Please remember that we are considering applicants in the academic year before they begin the course, so an applicant applying in October will begin their course the following in September.

The Compton SCITT

You can apply directly to The Compton SCITT, via the DfE portal. Please name JCoSS as your preferred school.

The London School of Jewish Studies (LSJS)

Please make applications for Schools Direct places via the lead school in our cluster, Yavneh College. LSJS is particularly suitable for those with an interest in gaining experience of working in Jewish schools and for those training in Jewish Education and Ivrit, although some secular subjects are offered as well, including Maths and Science.

<http://www.lsj.ac.uk/>

Whichever route you choose, we look forward to receiving your applications for 2024-25